THE RULE-MAKING AUTHORITY IN THE ENGLISH SUPREME COURT. By Samuel Rosenbaum, LL.M., Gowen Fellow in the Law School of the University of Pennsylvania, 1913-1915. With an Introductory Preface by T. Willes Chitty, of the Inner Temple, Editor of the Yearly Practice, etc.

A historical analysis of the present English rules of civil procedure, illustrating the advantages of regulation by judges and practitioners over regulation by the legislature.

"I have read Mr. Rosenbaum's essays with great interest, and can testify to the accuracy of the statements contained in them. Indeed, I am astonished at the painstaking research and labour which he has devoted to the task, and at the practical, detailed, and accurate knowledge of our procedure which he has acquired and which he lays before his readers."
